

BUSINESS ANALYST

JOIN OUR NEWLY FOUNDED BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT TEAM

Vestergaard Company A/S is looking for a talented and ambitious Business Analyst to join our newly founded Business Development team in Roskilde and to assist our organization in achieving our ambitious growth targets and executing cross-functional strategic projects.

Your job

In this position, you will take part in building the new function, co-creating your own and the team's responsibilities along the way. You will get a broad exposure to different parts of the organization, as you will typically work across a wide range of business units and drive/facilitate cross-functional projects, both in the Danish parent company and in our subsidiaries in Thailand, USA, France and Sweden.

In 2017, Vestergaard implemented a new strategy plan with very ambitious growth and development targets, which will impact the entire organization in the years ahead. The Business Development team was created as an extension of the plan and will be involved in many aspects of achieving the targets. These will include, among others, strategy development and execution, mergers & acquisitions, post-merger integration, innovation, and process optimization.

As our Business Analyst, you will play a key role in understanding and influencing decision-makers and supporting the implementation of new business and operational processes to deliver maximum value to the organization.

Part of your responsibilities will be:

- Conduct various research and analysis with regard to the industry and our competitors
- Drive and/or facilitate strategic projects in close collaboration with other business units
- Facilitate Vestergaard's process optimization, both in Production and Administration
- Prepare ad-hoc analyses and presentations for our executive management

Your qualifications

Our expectations of you are:

- You are analytical, with a strategic approach, and have an interest in technology
- You have a master's degree in business administration or economics or a similar degree from a technical university
- You have an excellent analytical mindset with strong quantitative and problem-solving skills
- You are used to communicating complex topics in a clear and concise manner both orally and in writing
- You speak and write English fluently
- You thrive and can deliver in an environment with multiple activities
- You are ambitious and result-oriented with a high level of drive, initiative and persistence

We offer

An independent job with great development opportunities, both personally and professionally, in an exciting company and an international environment.

You will work in a flat organization where the time from idea to implementation is fast. You will work with highly skilled colleagues in a team-spirit atmosphere, where the well-being of the individual employee is an essential part of the corporate culture.

We offer an attractive salary in agreement with your qualifications, as well as benefits such as pension scheme, health care program and profit sharing.
